

Nicole

Nicole has been through some dramatic life changes in her 31 years. Her marriage to a military man ended two years ago, and she and her kids have moved back to her hometown of El Paso to be close to her family and the support they provide. As grateful as she is for the help, she yearns to be the independent woman she once was. She works as a receptionist to make ends meet but wants to provide more for her children. With the help of Opportunity Coach, Louis Barajas, will she find her way to financial freedom?