

Lynette & Omar

Naturally upbeat and grateful for what they have, Lynette and Omar dream of owning a home and building generational wealth for their children. When they were in between jobs, they lived on credit cards and predatory payday loans to make ends meet. With an apartment that is disintegrating and three college-bound girls, they need help fast. They are ready to work with Opportunity Coach Louis Barajas to make tough choices when opportunity knocks.